

eLearning Creating an Inclusive Workplace

Diversity & Inclusion training for all staff within your organisation

Course overview

This course is designed to help colleagues understand how they can play their part in supporting a culture of inclusion at work and fostering equality and respect for all. By giving your staff the tools to understand and respond to workplace discrimination or harassment they are empowered to speak up, support their colleagues and create a truly inclusive workplace. This course will reinforce your organisation's policies and procedures and can be used as part of the onboarding process or as a refresher for existing employees.

Course length: 45 minutes

Key features

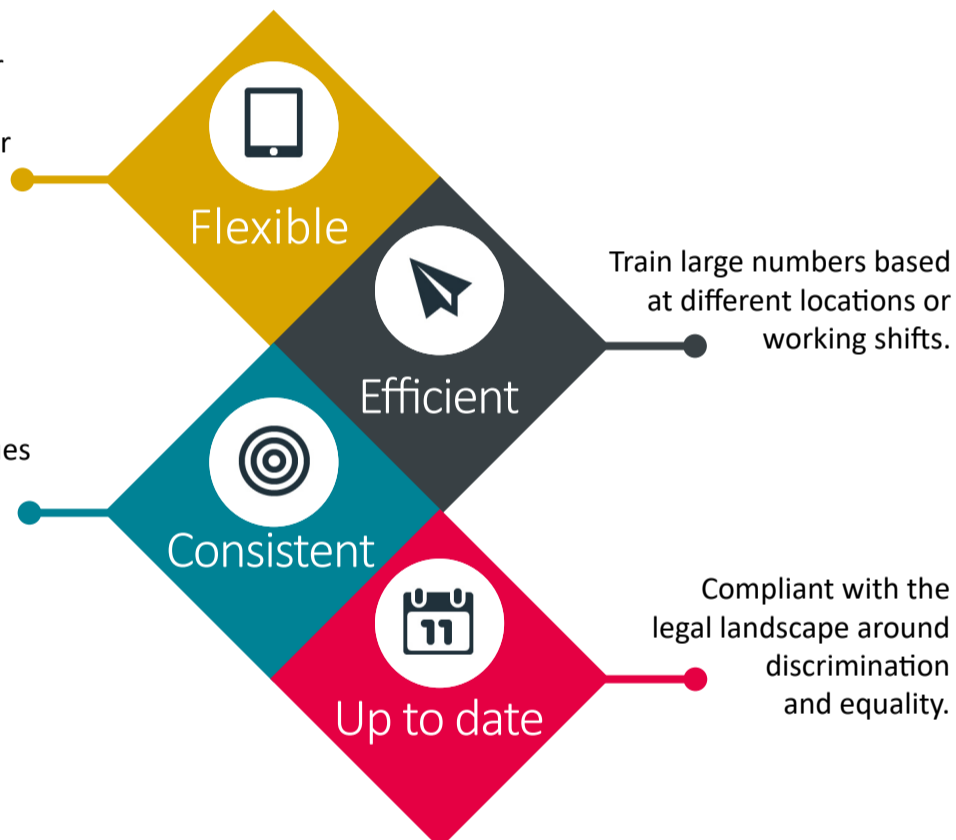

- Customisable content to suit your organisation.
- Interactive examples and scenarios.
- Multiple choice quizzes to reinforce learning.

Publish formats

LMS: SCORM 1.2 / 2004 / AICC
Web / HTML

Benefits of eLearning

Fully optimised for PC, laptop, tablet and mobile so your colleagues can learn anywhere, at any time and at their own pace.

Learning objectives

By the end of this course learners will:

- Develop an understanding of what equality, diversity and inclusion are and understand the steps to take to create a truly inclusive workplace.
- Understand the types of unlawful discrimination and what type of behaviour might amount to discrimination, victimisation and harassment.
- Recognise the rights and responsibilities in a professional and respectful work environment.
- Understand that employees can be personally liable for discrimination, victimisation or harassment in the workplace.
- Explore unconscious bias, allyship and effective interventions and identify how to be a more visible ally.

Get in touch for a free demo: neha.lugg@freeths.co.uk